Freckles On The Road Series

Children's Travel Picture Book Series

Brand Development • Cover Design • Typography • Production

Freckles On The Road is a children's travel picture book series following an adventurous English Setter puppy as she explores real locations throughout the United States.

The series required the development of a consistent visual brand across multiple titles while adapting each cover to represent a unique destination and regional landscape. Responsibilities included cover design, typography, series branding, illustration direction, print production, and publishing.
